Election

Voters in Dysart Towsnhip may be asked to do something that hasn't been done in their municipality in 14 years—elect a reeve. Council will be deciding tonight how to fill the vacancy created by Murray Fearrey's resignation. Please see page 2.

Hydro

Electricity will be flowing from the Irondale River if Julian and Chris Reed's plans for a generating station come to fruition. please see page 6.

New way to call police

A new 1-800 phone number for contacting the Ontario Provincial Police comes into effect in Haliburton County today.

To contact an officer for such things as accidents, crimes or emergencies, Highlands residents are encouraged to use the new number, which will be answered by a central District 8 dispatch in Peterborough.

The OPP is beginning the transition to its new central dispatching system and Haliburton County is one of the first in the district to switch over.

If you require the attendance of an officer, dial 1-800-461-6488. If you wish to contact the Minden OPP office for administrative purposes, the number to dial is still 286-1431.

OPP District 8 also includes the counties of Victoria, Peterborough and Northumberland. These counties will be gradually introduced to the new service.

The dogs were anxious to get out on the trail Saturday morning during the opening ceremonies of the Minden Sled Dog Derby. About a dozen huge balloons helped take the weight off this sled, driven by the official derby mascot, Drifter. For more on the derby see pages 8 and 9.

Fearrey calls it quits after 14 years as Dysart's reeve

The resignation of Haliburton County's most influencial politician has surprised many of his fellow councillors, but they are confident the initiatives already set in motion will continue to progress in his absence.

Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearrey announced his resignation from the township and County Councils on January 8, concluding 19 years of service in municipal politics. In a letter to Dysart Clerk Donna McCallum, Fearrey said he feels "saddened by the commitments made for this community that have been stalled: they were imperative for the future growth of this municipality and the enhancement of Haliburton County."

Fearrey has served on Dysart Council since 1971. He was acclaimed as Reeve in 1975 and has since been uncontested in his bids to regain his seat at the head of council.

Fearrey "was the lead oarsman of a big ship," Dysart Deputy Reeve Bill Davis said last week. "The rest of us are just going to have to pull together," he added.

Dysart Council will be holding a special meeting tonight (Monday) to decide what option should be taken to fill the vacancy created by Fearrey's resignation. The Municipal Act allows the municipality to choose one of several alternatives of filling vacancies on council, but Davis said he could not predict which avenue Dysart will pursue.

Davis, who has been both an opponent and ally of Fearrey at various times, says the resignation spells a tremendous loss for the municipality and the county. "He's going to be missed, there's no doubt about it."

Davis said he has learned a lot from Fearrey over the past few years. He said Fearrey's advice has been "helpful and valuable."

This is not the first time Fearrey has announced his resignation. Prior to the last two elections, Fearrey had indicated he would not be running again, but was convinced to change his mind.

"It should come as no real surprise that I am taking this action," Fearrey said in his letter. "I have reflected clearly on the last two electoral occasions with emphasis that I no longer want the responsibility; but was pursuaded to stay on to see projects through."

In spite of his efforts, progress on two of the main projects Fearrey has been working on—the hospital expansion and the sewer line extension—has ground to a halt.

The last two years in office proved to be very frustrating for Fearrey, said Davis. Projects like the hospital expansion and sewer line extension have stalled. In addition, Davis says there are a number of new projects "on tap" for the coming year that will require a great deal of time. Davis said he had wind of Fearrey's resignation a few days earlier, but felt sure the

Snowdon council won't delay rezoning

Snowdon's Valley Road residents were given plenty of time to respond to a neighbour's application to rezone his property, council said last Monday in denying a request to postpone its decision on the matter.

Everyone had at least 30 days notice and some had more, Deputy Reeve Dwaine Wruth said Monday after council was asked to postpone its consideration of the application for another month. "If they didn't respond yet, you can bet the will not," Wruth suggested to William Yule, who opposed the application.

William Douglas, who owns property on both sides of the Drag River was applying for a rezoning of both properties. He wants the property on the west side of the river to be rezoned to residential. He wants the property on the east side of the river rezoned seasonal residential.

On the advice of the township's planner, council was only willing to consider the application for the rezoning of the parcel on the west side of the river at this time.

The rezoning, which was approved by Snowdon Council, is the first step in Douglas' plans to develop the property. He has applied to County Land Division for severances on the property on the west side of the river to create eight lots.

Collegues say Fearrey will be missed

But County Council has the talent to carry on with projects for 1990

Reeve would reconsider. He said it was a surprise to learn Fearrey was going ahead with his resignation.

Haliburton County Warden Don Shortreed was equally surprised and saddened by the resignation. "There's no doubt that it's a real loss . . . not just to the county but to the councillors," said Shortreed. "He was a real leader . . . we hate to lose him."

Shortreed said he can understand Fearrey's decision. Municipal politics can be very demanding, the warden said, and it can take lot out of a person. This is especially true for those like Fearrey who try to balance the time demands of a business and those of political life.

"At this time, I need a break from the pressure and time demands of public office," Fearrey said in his letter. He said he is leaving his office in order to dedicate more time to business and personal matters.

Although Shortreed says County Council will miss the knowledge and experience that Fearrey brought to the table, he has confidence in the ability of the remaining members to carry on with the projects envisioned for 1990.

"I think we have a good strong County Council," said Shortreed. If councillors are true to their promise of co-operation, Shortreed says will make headway this year and have a "good 1990 for results."

Although Fearrey has resigned from public office, Shortreed said he is sure Fearrey will still be available for help and advice. Fearrey hints that this will be the case: "Forever, I will be a supporter of Haliburton and Haliburton County and its people"

And although he is stepping back from public office at this time, Fearrey does not rule out the possibility of re-entering the political forum in the future. "One cannot judge the future," he says, "sometime the taxpayers may afford me the privilege of serving them again."

Dysart Council will decide how to fill Reeve's position tonight

Dysart Council will be deciding tonight what avenue it should take to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Reeve Murray Fearrey.

Fearrey's resignation is expected to be accepted at the regular meeting of Dysart Council this morning (Monday), and a special meeting to select one of the two options of filling the vacancy will be held in the evening. Dysart Deputy Reeve Bill Davis says this meeting will be closed to the public.

Under the Municipal Act, council has two option of filling the vacancy at its disposal.

•One avenue council can take is to hold an election for this position. If this option is chosen, all eligible Dysart voters will have the opportunity of being nominated. However, if a member of council decides to run, he will first have to resign his seat and an election to fill that vacancy would be required.

•The second option at council's disposal is to appoint one of the present council members to be Reeve.

If the Deputy Reeve is chosen to become Reeve, council must then appoint a councillor to fill in as Deputy Reeve. A vacant councillor's seat would then be filled through one of two options: an open election or by appointing any resident of the municipality.

Resignation

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey's resignation will be a loss to Haliburton County Council, but the timing of this step could not have been better.

Certainly, there is no good time to lose the experience a man like Fearrey brings to the council table, but his departure will not leave as much of a void as it would have a few years earlier. Haliburton County Council is stacked with talented and experienced people, who are more than capable of meeting the challenges of the '90s.

For the past 14 years Fearrey wielded more power and influence in the decision-making process of the county than any other member, mainly because of the trust and confidence placed in him by fellow councillors. This much clout in the hands one is potentially dangerous, but Fearrey never abused it. An outspoken advocate of county unity, he balanced his influence to the benefit of all municipalities.

As we see it, the challenge now for county council is not as much overcoming the lost experience, but in maintaining the co-operation and unity that Fearrey promoted.

Community spirit

Community spirit is anything but dead in Haliburton County.

The tremendous show of support from volunteers and the municipality in helping carry off another highly-successful sled dog derby this weekend is evidence that community spirit is alive and well, in Minden at least.

For two days in a row, dozens of volunteers stood out in the cold for hours on end directing traffic, holding dogs and helping with communications. Road crews worked the night shift Friday, bringing snow into the downtown, which allows the race to start and finish on the main street.

Without these people it would be impossible for the derby to have grown into the popular event that it now is.

"...BUT SURELY, FEARREY GODFATHERS ARE NOT SUPPOSED TO QUIT..."

What's in a word?

Black 'n White

by Arthur Black

"When I use a word," Humpty Dumpty said, in rather a scornful tone, "it means just what I choose it to mean — neither more nor less."

"The question is," said Alice, "whether you can make words mean so many different things."

"The question is," said Humpty Dumpty, "which is to be master — that's all."

Alas, poor words. They are the draft horses of human intercourse. They stand, endlessly patient, eternally hitched to our thought processes, ready to plod in whichever direction we whip them.

And we do whip them in various and sundry directions. Like Humpty Dumpty, we make words mean just what we want them to mean. Is that a flammable liquid or an inflammable one? Doesn't matter. They mean the same thing.

A fast sprinter runs like the wind, but a shirt that's colour fast doesn't run — we hope.

A detective who dusts for fingerprints, slops talcum powder all over the joint. But somebody dusting a living room does the opposite.

And how about the term "sell-out"? If Valdy has a sell-out concert he's a genius. But a Brian Mulroney sell-out to the States is the act of a turncoat and a cad.

Well, which is it?

And how is it that precious commodities can be described as both valuable and invaluable, while wretched outcasts can be either shameful or shameless?

Ah, words. Such wonderful, malleable com-

A review of the environment in 1989

Reflections

by Dr. David Suzuki

As we reach the last decade of the millennium, the past year if filled with powerful images to carry us into the next ten years, when people and society have to undergo a massive change to stave off ecological collapse. This is the Turnaround Decade.

The year 1989 is dominated by the astonishing events occurring behind the "Iron Curtain," a tribute to the power of the human spirit that yearns for freedom and improvement of one's life.

The tragic setback at Tienanmen Square must be viewed alongside the crumbling Berlin Wall and the collapse of Communist regimes throughout the Eastern bloc countries. Mikhail Gorbachev has reshaped both the political and military landscape of the globe and would be a worthy recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize.

As we celebrate the changing political scene, we must also assess it in light of catastrophic changes in the global ecosphere. If communist authoritarianism is replaced simply to achieve the affluence and consumption of the west, then the pressures on an already overstressed planet will be unsupportable.

As in past years, the litany of environmental crises continues - the Exxon Valdez oil spill, toxic pollution of Lake Ontario, a catastrophic decline in fish stocks off the maritime coast and the closing of fisheries in British Columbia because of pulp contamination.

At the same time, a powerful grassroots movement is sweeping the land. Ordinary citizens are forming groups to fight pollution, save wilderness, reduce garbage. Even in the traditionally pro-development province of Alberta, citizens are vociferously objecting to proposed new pulp mills in the north.

There is a growing sense of public frustration that none of the three major parties has presented a credible environmental program. We cannot afford another election at any level in which environment is not the central issue. We must vote for candidates on environmental stand, not political affiliation.

There are models in Ottawa to go by. John

New definitions tax the imagination

modities — but they can be ... err, (in)flammable too.

Take the word "tax".

It comes from the Latin verb "tangere" — to touch. Isn't that too, too exquisite? The government "touches" us for some money. Of course, that touch long ago became a nibble which turned into a nip and now stands somewhere between a pit bull throttle and a shark chomp — but that's another tale of woe. No, let us concern outselves today with how the taxman uses words to put the "touch" on you and me.

First, there is the Personal Income Tax form. Relax, I'm not going to go through it. Couldn't if I wanted to. It's defeated better minds than mine. A couple of years ago, George Morfitt pronounced Canada's tax system "incredibly difficult to understand, hard to administer and almost impossible to defend."

Mister Moffitt was president of the B.C. Institute of Chartered Accountants at the time.

Last spring, the Toronto Star newspaper hired a panel of tax experts to test Revenue Canada agents — the people who are supposedly trained to help buffaloed taxpayers with their tax forms.

The agents got 56 per cent of the questions wrong.

But hey, that was last spring right? The Feds have had the best part of a year to clean up their act and rewrite the gobbledygook. Betcha when the Goods and Services Tax descends on us it will at least be easy to read, eh?

Sorry, Charlie. An advance peek at the GST proposal reveals three new word manglings we'll all have to get used to. The first one is "taxable". In GST jargon, "taxable" means "tax collector". Then there's "exempt". Under the new legislation, "exempt" means ... well, it means "not exempt" actually. To be "exempt" means you have to pay taxes.

What's that, Charlie? You thought if you were exempt you wouldn't have to pay taxes? No, silly — under the GST you have to be "zero-rated" to be exe — sorry — to be untaxed.

What scares me is that this is only a sneak preview of the GST legislation and already it's incomprehensible. Can you imagine what it'll be like when you get to page 39, subsection B?

Personally, I can't afford the Excedrins anymore. I propose a ten-word simplified tax form: HOW MUCH DID YOU MAKE LAST YEAR? SEND IT IN.

No, it was just a joke, Michael. Honest.

Irondale power station gets support

Julian and Chris Reed unveiled plans for High Falls last week

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

A proposed hydroelectric generating station on the Irondale River has received support from Monmouth council.

Julian Reed and his son Chris attended last Monday's regular meeting of council and gave a brief presentation outlining their project.

"It was a real treat," Julian said later. "With a project like this you don't want to proceed without the municipality's blessing."

The Reeds also received strong support from residents in the area at two open houses they held at the Lloyd Watson Centre in Wilberforce and the Glamorgan Community Centre in Gooderham.

Chris said people were genuinely interested in the proposal and most of them supported it once they understood it will be "environmentally benign."

The proposal is for a single-turbine generating plant on the Irondale River at High Falls. The station wil be a 'run of river' operation with no effect on water levels above or below the site.

Water will be diverted into a canal above the falls, run through the generating plant and then returned to the river below the falls.

Instead of posing a threat to the water quality, Chris says the project will actually improve the quality of the water it uses by adding oxygen to it. This will benefit the river's trout population and will "freshen up" the water, says Chris.

Both father and son are familiar with hydroelectic generation. While serving in the Ontario legislature as the Liberal MPP for Burlington-Halton, Julian acted and energy critic for six years. Chris has experience managing hydroelectric generating stations in the Dryden area.

The High Falls project is the Reed's first major project since forming their company, based in Norval, Ontario.

"We chose High Falls because it has certain natural advantages," says Julian. One of the primary advantages of the site is that it's located just two kilometers from where the plant will hook into the Ontario Hydro system. Chris says the costs of running hydro lines can be prohibitive to small generating stations if the distance is too great.

The other advantage to the site is that it doesn't require a large dam be built, which would be financially unfeasible and have a profound effect on the surrounding area. Chris says damming the Irondale river would create a pond almost a quarter of the size of Monmouth township.

Neither Parks Canada, which controls the water levels in the river as part of the Trent-Severn Waterway, or local residents would be prepared to allow such a dam.

The High Falls project is big enough to force the Reeds to go through the approval process required by any large project, but not so "horribly expensive that we couldn't handle it," says Reed. "It will be good experience."

Approval for the project is needed from a variety of government agencies including Fisheries and Oceans Canada, the Ministry of Natural Resources, Ministry of Environment and Parks Canada.

Because the fish population in the river is not migratory, Julian says Fisheries and Oceans aren't concerned the generating plant will have an effect.

Julian first became interested in the potential of hydro power in his childhood. His mother's family were flour millers and he says he used to spend hours in the mill watching the water-driven turbines grind the grain.

Julian Reed, left, and his son Chris display the location of their proposed hydroelectric generating station on the Irondale River at High Falls in Monmouth.

Later, while serving in Queen's Park, Julian served on a committee exploring alternatives to nuclear and thermal power. This was during the late 1970's when the anti-nuclear movement was at a "crescendo" he says.

One of the options explored by the committee was hydro power, but at the time it felt there were not enough sites left for potential development to make a significant contribution.

But Julian says an effort should be made to find how much potential there is for hydro power. The technology needed for these plant is "not rocket science" he says, and of all the means of generating electricity, hydro generation is the most environmentally friendly and each plant has a long life expectancy.

The power produced by the Reed's operation, about 500 kilowatts, will be sold to Ontario hydro. At a price of five cents a kilowatt hour, the Reeds hope the plant will generate a gross annual revenue

Township nets $100,000 from sale of parkette

Money will be used to help finance repairs for Minden's ailing community centre

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

The sale of Minden's Village Green has been finalized.

Council passed a by-law conveying the downtown parkette and 20-space parking lot to Gary Thurston for the price of $100,000.

After the by-law was passed, Reeve Ray Moore disclosed the details of the sale.

Moore said the property has been up for sale for several years, but because it was municipally owned, perspective buyers felt it should have been available for less than the appraised price. No one else came near Thurston's offer of $100,000, which is what the property was appraised at, said Moore. "We've done our job as council."

Deputy-Reeve Bern Berry said the development of the lot will "rejuvenate the whole downtown area" and expressed hope that property improvements will catch on so downtown Minden will start "looking like it could look."

The sale of the property, particularly the parking lot located on Peck Street, came under fire from downtown merchants who opposed the loss of the parking spaces and the method by which the land was sold. Many felt the property should have been advertised and tenders called.

Councillor Bob Sisson noted the township acquired the property in a trade for lakefront property several years ago and was under no obligation to retain the downtown park. "It's nice, but that's a lot of money we can do things with," said Sisson.

Council has been collecting money through property sales in order to finance repairs to Minden's arena and community centre. Steel girders which make up the arena's frame are being eaten away by calcium used in the building's construction.

Moore said that with the sale of the Village Green the township is in a position to proceed with work on the arena. But Berry tempered Moore's optimism by saying the township still needs assistance from local service clubs and the community. "We're not that fluid yet," said Berry.

The township is also investigating the possibility of applying for grants which may help finance the work. As well, a lawsuit against the companies which constructed the arena has been initiated.

Hydro power is a clean alternative

Ontario Hydro has been very supportive of privately-owned generating stations says Julian. Once the decision was made to buy power from these operations, Hydro standardized the connections onto its power lines.

Although the potential is there for hydro power, Julian says its future depends on how the province-wide power grid is expanded. Presently, many suitable sites a are too far away from the grid to be viable for development.

And from an environmental point of view, hydro power is an extremely attractive alternative. Even the Reeds' small station, which will generate enough power for 120 homes, will have a measurable effect.

A coal-burning plant producing the same power would release 40,000 pounds of sulphur emmissions into the air annually and a thermal generating station produces two kilowatts of waste heat for every kilowatt of energy it produces. The High Falls project will produce no emmissions and no waste heat.

"Everyone of these projects is significant," says Julian. "Even our plant, as small as it will be."

In terms of benefits to the local economy, the project, with an estimated cost of $600,000 to $800,000, will use local contractors during the construction phase, will add to Monmouth's tax base, and will create a part-time job for a plant operator.

The Reeds expect to have the plant on line about one year after the all the necessary approvals have been received.

Although the project will not have an effect on water levels in the river, it will be at their mercy. "We have to use whatever the good Lord and Parks Canada sends us," says Julian.

The Reeds are aware of the local public concern about water levels in the county's reservoir lakes and Julian says they know the last two years have been unusually dry. "If we thought these conditions were going to continue we wouldn't pursue it," he said.

Prayers anwered, snow leads to mush

Minden's prayers were answered last week with heaps of snow, just in time of the sixth running of the Minden Sled Dog Derby.

The opening ceremonies Saturday morning kicked off an exciting weekend. Almost 100 teams entered the two events and about a thousand spectators lined Main Street throughout Saturday and Sunday.

The big winner this year in both the eight- and four-dog events was Neal Johnson of Minnesota. He placed first in both events, winning almost $5,000 in prize money. His combined time in the eight-dog class was 50:57:36. His time in the four-dog class was 31:54.

Both of Johnson's times are course records. He beat the eight-dog record by almost five minutes and the four-dog record by a minute and a half.

Former record holder in the eight-dog event, Terri Killam, of Northboro Mass., finished the eight mile run in a time that earned her third place this year. Ross Saunderson finished in second spot.

Val Beland was second in the four-dog class, about 20 seconds off the winning pace. Stuart Ostoff was third.

Local racers Val and Steve Lougheed weren't as successful on the course as they were in organizing this event. Steve placed 28th in the eight-dog race with a two-day time of 57:18:73. Val was 29th in the four-dog with a combined time of 37:57:02.

Committee takes a look at what's available

by Jay Kerr-Wilson

The committee studying Haliburton County's health care needs has begun the process of learning about the different services already available in the area.

The committee held its second meeting at Hyland Crest last Wednesday and heard presentations from the Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge Home Care Program, Haliburton County Home Support Services and the Victorian Order of Nurses.

Committee chairman Maureen Dikun said the presentations generated some very interesting conversation and questions from the committee members.

Dikun said the presentations made the committee look at the fact that, because of the geography of Haliburton County, certain services are not easily accessible by all people.

Although the information received by the committee is not new and represented only a brief overview of the services provided by the three agencies, Dikun says it's important for the committee to receive an education in local health care services before it can start making recommendations.

Dikun also discussed the reasons for holding the meetings in private. She said the general feeling among committee members was they would feel freer to discuss their opinions without the risk of statements being picked up and reported out of context.

The committee does not want to exclude the public from the process, said Dikun, which is why she plans to speak with the two local papers after each meeting.

The committee has released the finalized terms of referance for the study. According to the statement, the goal of the review is to "develop an enhanced, integrated health, housing and social services system for residents of Haliburton County."

The committee has been given until June to complete its study. A final report of the findings and recommendations is due in August.

The implementation of the recommendations of the committee will begin in July.

The committee's mandate, as outlined in the terms of referance includes:

—identifying the present and projected needs of the residents of the county as perceived by the residents, professionals, volunteers and others involved in their care,

—developing an up-to-date inventory of health, social services and related programs, including costs, availability, accessiblity, and range,

—documenting the current interrelationships in the existing health, social services, housing and related service systems,

—analyzing demographic, particularly seasonal trends, and profiles that will impact upon service delivery now and in the future,

—providing special attention to health maintenance and illness prevention measures that will enhance the health status of the population and,

—considering and examining alternative models of care and reimbursment.

The committee will develop a model for the integrated community health, social services and housing system. The model will address a plan for integrated service delivery, the indentification of community-based and institutional-based programs and the allocations of resources to support the model.

Except for one representative from St. Joseph's General Hospital to represent Minden, the 14 committee members have been chosen.

The committee's next meeting will be held in Haliburton Village on January 30. A February 14 meeting is planned for the Lloyd Watson Centre in Wilberforce.

Committee membership

The following is a list of members of the Haliburton County Directional Plan Steering Committee. The committee is conducting a study of the county's health needs.

Maureen Dikun - Chairman, Carole Craigmyle - Vice-Chairman, Jack Brezina, Earle Casey, Barb Dawson, Marlene Edwards, Karl Hartwick, Bill Howe, Jean Hutchinson, Lyn Linton, Gary McKnight, Donna Pacey, and Phyllis Sisson.

Minden's earned its place on the map, but now it seems the village is making a name for itself on the high seas.

Fred Elson showed us this postcard of a Rescue boat crashing through waves. The name of the boat is 'Minden', and since the writing on the back is in German, our village probably isn't its namesake.

Ministry delays decision on sewage plant to let Dysart address concerns

by Jay Kerr Wilson

In an effort to avoid an individual environmental assessment, Dysart township has asked the Ministry of the Environment to postpone making a decision on the proposed sewage plant expansion so environmental concerns might be addressed.

So far, the ministry has received four requests to have the proposal 'bumped up' to an individual assessment.

Environment Minister James Bradley was supposed to have decided on the fate of the project last week, but the decision was postponed so a meeting could be held involving the municipality, officials from the Minsitry of the Environment, the consultants who prepared the report and Victoria-Haliburton MPP John Eakins.

The meeting was held last Tuesday in Toronto and Dysart Deputy-Reeve Bill Davis, who represented the township at the table, called it a informational meeting that produced no "startling developments."

Raj Dhillon, one of the Environment officials who attended the Tuesday meeting, said the ministry is giving Dysart a chance to address some of the concerns raised by opponents of the project.

Bob Winston, of the ministry's Environmental Assessment Branch, says his office is working on the assumption the new deadline for a decision is this Friday (Jan 19).

Eakins attended the meeting along with staff member Dave Selby. Selby says the object of the meeting was to try and overcome some of the hurdles to the project. Although Eakins is not directly involved in the decision-making process, Selby says the MPP is trying to speed things up by making Dysart's proposal a priority with the Environment Ministry.

Wintson says part of the reason for the delay in making a decision is because the sewage expansion proposal is "not clear cut."

"It's getting complex," says Winston. "It goes into the whole issue of recreational development, which is very important to Victoria-Haliburton." Winston says a decision can be expected on the issue shortly.

The township has applied to expand the sewage treatment plant to accommodate a proposed sewer line extension to service resorts along the north shore of Lake Kashagawigamog.

Property owners on the lake are concerned the expansion will result in a deterioration in the lake chain's water quality and have asked that a detailed study of the proposal be carried out.

Students' derby posters were a hit with visitors

The dog teams may have captured most of the attention this weekend, however a colourful addition by students at Archie Stouffer Elementary School also drew admiring and enthusiastic glances.

The attraction was the many colourful posters prepared by the students and displayed at businesses throughout the community. The work of the students from kindergarten to grade eight demonstrated a keen eye for the detail of the derby as well as feeling for the emotion of the weekend.

"The children's art is one of the highlights of the weekend," Race Governor, Val Lougheed commented. "I know the visiting mushers get a real kick out of seeing the weekend through the eyes of the children."

The Sled Dog Derby Committee offered a numbe of modest prizes for the most interesting posters at each grade level, but, as Lougheed pointed out, every entry is a winner and so each piece that was submitted is on display somewhere in the village.

From all the entries received, one was chosen as the grand prize winner. Travis Dennison's pencil sketch of a racing team superimposed on the head of a husky, captured the judges' eye and was awarded top spot this year. The special prize allowed him to spend a day with a musher, attending the driver's meeting, helping to prepare the team and bringing the team to the start line. As well, the grand prize winner will have access to a dog from the musher's kennel for the kid and mutt race Saturday afternoon.

Last year's grand prize winner, Amanda Stephenson, will also be participating in this year's event, since she missed out on her prize with last year's cancellation.

The winners at each grade level this year are:

Kindergarten: 1. Shyanne Watson; 2. Raymond Shim; 3. Stephanie Armstrong.

Grade two: 1. Ann Raback; 2. Mitchell Johnson; 3. Ryan Sisson.

Grade three: 1. Helen Harris; 2. Jennifer Wales; 3. Shelly Hirstwood.

Grade four: 1. Danielle Berube; 2. Chris Kerr; 3. Megan Sisson.

Grade five: 1. Donald Todd; 2. Katie Ackerblade; 3. Brian Willison.

Grade eight: 1. Wendy McAlister; 2. Keith McKelvey; Julie-Anne Adam.

Cory Ziorjen and Margie Newton were two of the judges in the poster contest.

Stanhope reeve critical of grant shortfall

The province's recent announcement on Transfer Grants came under sharp criticism by Stanhope Township Council at its meeting last Wednesday.

"We are very discouraged by the 4.8 per cent increase in grants that Treasurer Bob Nixon announced today," said Stanhope Reeve Harry Davis. "It falls far below the nine per cent increase the municipalities need to provide desperately-needed services to their communities."

Davis says the province has demanded municipalities take on more responsibilities for children, seniors and disadvantage people on social assistance, "but they haven't backed up those demands with the additional funds needed to address those responsibilities.

"This is very disturbing when you realize that the province's revenues are expected to increase by almost 10 per cent this year." Davis asks where this huge increase in provincial revenue is being spent.

In Haliburton County all municipalities ae being asked to provide more services with less assistance from the province, says the Stanhope Reeve. The Association of Municipalities of Ontario (AMO) has calculated that the nine per cent increase requested would barely meet inflation, current municipal needs and the growth-related cost increases for existing services.

Stanhope township shares AMO's view that the unconditional grant program should recognize increased municipal expenditures as a result of provincially-mandated services. These include the new health care levy taking effect in 1990, the transfer for responsibility of court security, pay equity and a number of other provincial issues.

With decreased subsidies, municipalities have only two alternatives, says Davis—reduce services or increase taxes. He says council does not like either of these options.

Commercial plaza is proposed for Minden: council green lights plans

Minden Council has given approval, in principle, to the development of a plaza on Bobcaygeon Road across from McKnight Drive.

Developers Doug Johnson and Brad Bradamore attended Thursday's council meeting along with their engineer Godfrey Saunders, to present their plan to the councillors.

The plaza will have four commercial spaces at street level and six apartments on the second floor. There are plans for 29 parking spaces at the back of the building.

The plaza will be built into the slope so the second floor of the building will be at ground level and the back with entrance to the apartments off of the parking lot.

Access to and from Bobcaygeon Road will be provided by two one-way driveways. Having one entrance and one exit will keep traffic to and from the development moving, said Saunders.

An application has been submitted to sever the plaza into two parts. Johnson will own one half of the development and Ted Reid, a partner in the project, will own the other half.

The site of the development has already been partially excavated and councillor Lewis Stevens said "everyone wants to see a conclusion to the property in question."

Reeve Ray Moore brought up the possibility of the developers providing municipal parking along the street at the front of the plaza. He was told there is enough room for eight parallel spaces or about 15 angled parking spots.

Minden's Chief Building Official Tom Hubercheck, told council the developers had addressed all the concerns raised by the township's planner Bob Lehman. The project was also reviewed by Road Superintendent Clayton Cameron and Fire Chief Don Booth.

The project will be brought to Minden's Planning Advisory Committee at the next meeting.

Residents want delay to hear all concerns

Introducing the rezoning application at Monday's public meeting, Snowdon Clerk Ernie Hills said notices of this meeting were sent out to neighbours on November 9. He said three people who should have received notices were missed and another full set was sent out November 22.

In asking for a "moratorium" Yule said several neighbouring residents are out of the country for the winter and should be given the opportunity to voice their opinions when they return in the spring. Yule said he sent a letter to everyone concerned with the application and received a few replies. He said it is likely there would be more replies if the people had more of a chance to respond.

Douglas disagreed. He said 30 days is plenty of time, especially with the Fax machines and rapid-mail systems that are available these days.

William Mitchell also spoke out against the rezoning at Monday's meeting. "Although I disagree with the proposal, I realize that progress is inevitable," he said, "but it should be of benefit to all."

Mitchell said council has a moral obligation to make sure that the private road leading into this property has been surveyed, is properly ditched and is in the right spot. He suggested that the municipality should assume responsibility for the Valley Road.

Douglas, however, said the road is where it should be, and is well maintained on a year-round basis. If people want their privacy, Douglas said they have two options: "buy my property or move."

Yule said he is not opposed to change in the neighbourhood but feels council should consider the overall effect on the area. Additional homes will mean additional pollution, he said, and the added traffic on the road will create noise problems.

In spite of the arguments from Yule and Mitchell, council approved the rezoning.

OPP Notes

During the week of January 1 to 7, officers of the Minden OPP Detachment investigated 45 general occurrences and 18 accidents, four involving snowmobiles and injuring two persons. Fourteen of the accidents involved automobiles and resulted in no injuries.

THEFTS

—An electric winch was stolen from a property on Highway 121, west of Highway 648.

—A Remington Sportsman 12-gauge shotgun was stolen from a property on Percy Lake.

—Tools, a fan, a cooler, seven lifejackets and nine paddles were stolen from Camp Northern Lights.

ASSAULT

Randy Allen Upton, 23, of the Minden area, has been charged with assault after an altercation in Minden on January 6.

The victim of the assault received no injuries. Upton is to appear in Provincial Court in Minden on February 2.

Upton has also been charged with several other unrelated offences. Charges include Theft Over $1,000, Theft Under $1,000, Possession of Stolen Property and Breach of Probations.

ACCIDENT

Two people were injured in a snowmobile accident on January 1, which happened at Kennisis Lake.

Thomas Craig, 36, of Scarborough was travelling on an unplowed road when he met a vehicle at a curve and veered into the bush, colliding with trees. Craig and passenger Kendra Crockett, 22, were taken to Haliburton Hospital.

It was 'year of learning:' Reeve

In his opening address of the year to Minden council, Reeve Ray Moore warned of the challenges that lay ahead and outlined the priorities facing the township.

"We have had a year of extreme learning—learning by trial and error how to, and how not to, run our community," said Moore.

"My observation of the challenges ahead is that it will not become any easier. This council will, however, continue to strengthen itself with knowledge, wisdom, care and concern for the silent majority and all the ratepayers we represent."

Moore touched briefly on the challenges he's indentified. He said council will have to address waste management, the county official plan, restructuring of the county system, and cutbacks in provincial funding.

"It will be our job to look after the interests of Anson, Hindon and Minden," said Moore. Specific areas of importance include industrial and commercial development, affordable housing, renovations and repairs to the arena, development of roads, hospitals and health care and updating Minden's official plan to conform to the county's. "To name just a few."

"It will be a very demanding year ahead, more of your valuable time will be required if we are to navigate through the challenging waters ahead."

Moore also made mention of last week's resignation of Murray Fearrey as Reeve of Dysart et al. "It is a tragedy for Haliburton County to lose one of the best community leaders with so much past experience," said Moore. "I am personally distraught over his decision. Murray Fearrey will be sorely missed."

For Your Service

by Sheila Carrell

Well, the Kinettes are starting another new year. We had our Christmas dinner and party at the Minden Legion. It was a lot of fun and the food was delicious.

Our membership is gradually growing. Maybe 1990 will be full of good luck with more new members and more discoveries for C.F.

Now that our Chuckwagon is fixed up, hopefully, we will have a prosperous New Year.

Special thanks to Minden Home Hardware and Jim Howe for all their support concerning the Chuckwagon. Also, thank you to the Minden Kinsman Club for their help and support as well.

If you are interested in joining the Minden Kinette Club, please contact Marg Prentice at 286-1428, or any other Kinette member.

Happy New Year to everyone.

Atoms excel at Fenelon tournament

With their spirits boosted by Thursday's win over Bobcaygeon the Atom A's entered the Fenelon Falls tournament on Saturday, January 6 feeling positive.

Their first game was against Whitby and Minden knew they had to excel against what should have been a superior club.

Excel they did, and from the opening face off Minden took control of the puck and the game. Each player displayed the discipline and confidence of a champion.

In the first period, Curtis Fielding scored to start Minden off. He was assisted by Chris Eskelin. (Curt had scored the insurance goal in Thursday's game and was on a roll). Two minutes later Dennis Woods scored assisted by Jeff Wray again scoring for Minden on a pass from Dennis Woods at 7:39. This was the only goal of the second as Minden seemed to throttle back a bit (Justin Rowden was getting cold) and Whitby picked up the pace.

Whitby's efforts seemed to spark Minden and Tom Bagshaw started off the third period with a nice drive to the net on a pass from Chris Eskelin and Tom was rewarded with Minden's 5th goal at 9:09. Less than two minutes later Andy McKelvey scored on a pass from Tom Bagshaw. Minden continued to dominate and Dennis Woods scored on a pass from Jeff Wray. With only 3:44 left to play, Woods could taste the hat trick and pushed hard to Whitby's end to score his third-goal unassisted.

The final score was 8-0 for Minden and another shut out for Justin. You didn't get much action this game Justin but when we needed you, you came up big.

Coach's Comment: Every member of this team contributed in this game, you were all great!

In their second game of the day Minden was mentally high but physically spent. Peterborough opened the scoring at 7:40 of the first period but only after two great saves by Justin Rowden.

Although Minden was obviously tired, they dug deep to find enough energy to stave off Peterborough for another two and a half periods.

Unfortunately, although Minden had several good drives to Peterborough's end they just couldn't pop that tying goal. Final score was 1-0 for Peterborough.

On Sunday January 7 Minden travelled to Cannington. Cannington controlled the first period with three goals but Minden never gave in and with four seconds left in the period Dennis Woods scored. He was assisted by Curtis Fielding and Andy McKelvey.

Minden kept up the pressure and were rewarded with their second goal. Chris Eskelin scored on a nice solo effort in 7:40 of the second period.

Going into the third, both teams were skating hard. Although Minden had several opportunities Cannington was able to stop them. Cannington pushed through twice to score

Snowfest: Slow pitch will become 'snow' pitch during carnival

Although there's still a few months to go before we see the last of the snow in Minden, area ball players are getting their bats and gloves ready for the first tournament of the new year.

A little bit of snow will not prevent the 160 ball players from heading out to the diamonds on January 26, 27 and 28 for the Coors Lights Snowfest tournament, which is being held in conjuction with the Minden Kinsmen Winter Carnival.

Kevin Smith, who is organizing this off-season tournament says he is overwhelmed with the interest shown so far. There is room for 16 teams in this three-day event and he said most slots were filled within a few days.

In past years, the Kinsmen have organized snow-pitch tournaments as part of the Winter Carnival, but poor weather last year caused the event's cancellation. This year Smith is organizing the tournament for the service club, and thanks to the sponsorship from Coors, the interest is better than ever.

The action begins on the Friday evening at the lower diamond in Minden. At 7 p.m. two teams will meet up in the first of three games under the lights. There will be more games on Saturday, beginning at 8 a.m. and the semi-finals and finals will be held Sunday.

Smith says it will be a three-pitch tournament, with each team providing their own pitcher. An orange baseball will be used and the games will be limited to one hour in length.

The entry fee of $70 guarantees every team at least two games and a shot at the prizes, which will be handed out at the Crowe's Nest following the final game Sunday.

In addition to the prizes for the winning teams, the heavy hitters will have a chance to compete in a home-run contest. Smith says it will cost an additional $5 to enter this contest and the winner takes half the tally.

For more information about the Snofest Tournament, contact Kevin Smith at 286-3680, Gary Smith at 286-4379 or Harland Doige at 286-2077.

Report card on the environment

Fraser, the Tory Speaker of the House, has long been a friend of environmentalists. He works behind the scenes to help this cause, often without credit and at considerable political risk. I first met Fraser when he was the Environment Minister in the short-lived Clark government. In an interview over the future of the Arctic, he showed a profound understanding of its spiritual values and a real commitment to protect this fragile ecosystem.

Fraser was a crucial, but unsung figure int he fight to save South Moresby in the Queen Charlotte Islands. Perhaps there can be no greater accolade then Erik Nielsen's assessment of him in the book, The House is not a Home. Nielsen criticizes Fraser for having "narrowed his focus over the years to limit it to one aspect of environmental matters." That tells us loads about differences in political priorities.

Charles Caccia is a Liberal who also served as environment minister. I first met him at the Stein Valley in British Columbia where he offered support for preserving the contentious ecosystem, only to be attacked as a "typical politician" making a lot of empty promises. But he meant it and has continued to keep the environment as his priority even after being replaced as environmental critic.

Caccia has presented a powerful case for the diversion of funds from the Department of National Defense to environmental protection.

Jim Fulton is the NDP environment critic. He has long sought justice for native people and successfully opposed Amax for dumping toxic tailings into fishing waters. Fulton told me about the struggle to save Windy Bay in the Queen Charlotte Islands and it resulted in a Nature of Things program that elicited more viewer response than any other show. Fulton initiated the House vote to have South Moresby set aside as a National Park Reserve and it passed unanimously.

At the provincial level, Ontario Environment Minister Jim Bradley has indicated by his actions that he puts the issue of the environment above reelection. He had his counterpart in Clifford Lincoln, a man widely respected while environment minister in Quebec. Lincoln showed his idealism when he resigned over the language issue, and now as a federal candidate has put the environment as his top priority.

We need a new kind of politician with the courage and vision to make tough decisions and lead us into the Turnaround Decade.

NOW AND AGAIN someone does their job exceptionally well — They go the extra mile and sometimes it appears, that nobody notices or cares.

But that's not always the case. Join me now to applaud the Haliburton County Roads Department who are spreading sand across the end of their roads parallel to the side of Provincial Highways.

We have all experienced that sick feeling you get when your car keeps sliding. No one will ever know how many lives are saved by sand in the right place at the right time.

Keep up the good work —

Thanks.

Minden Novices worry opponents

Hi again. It's been a long time since we last heard from one another, but alas we are back with a list of many wins.

Even though we haven't been in the paper we sure have been on the minds of the other hockey teams. They start to think about us when they come to play, wondering if they can beat us this time or not.

So here's a run down on our past and up to date wins and losses.

December 9 Minden were the guests in Ops. Both teams played hard and skated well but unfortunately Ops was unable to keep up with Minden. Minden winning with a score of 5-1.

Goals made by Minden were Paul Daniels, unassisted, Billy Fountain, unassisted, Paul Daniels, unassisted, Gary Kernohan, unassisted, Matthew Hynard, assisted by Trever Cole.

December 10 Minden was on the road again this time to be guests in Manvers.

Being Minden's second game this weekend meant nothing to them and it certainly did not slow them down any. If anything, we inspired them to go and win again.

Both teams played well. Manvers tried hard but they just could not catch Minden. Minden won 6-8.

Goals made by Minden were Trever Cole, unassisted, Shane Walker, assisted by Matthew Hynard, Billy Fountain, unassisted, Billy Fountain, assisted by Paul Daniels, Jordan Barclay, assisted by Shane Walker and Paul Daniels, Billy Fountain, assisted by Jordan Barclay and Shane Walker.

December 16 Minden met once again with Manvers on our ice. I think that with Minden practising on Thursday, they must have worked on the new skills some more. Because this time they only let Manvers score one goal. Nice work Cory Bull.

Minden won again with a score of 6-1.

Goals made by Minden were Paul Daniels, assisted by Shane Walker, Gary Kernohan, assisted by Trever Cole, Anthony Weerdenberg, unassisted, Billy Fountain, assisted by Paul Daniels, Gary Kernohan, assited by Trever Cole, Jason Horsley, unassisted.

December 17 Minden were guests in Little Britain. Another back to back game and once again there it was no trouble for this Minden team to play a good game. It seems to me that they just keep getting better.

With the goalie Cory Bull finishing the game with a shut out. Nice game Cory.

With Gary Kernohan ending the game with a hat-trick. Nice game Cory.

Both teams played a good clean game and tried their best and that's the way it should be done.

Goals made by Minden were Gary Kernohan, assisted by Trever Cole and Billy Fountain, Gary Kernohan, assisted by Trever Cole, Billy Fountain, unassisted, Gary Kernohan, unassisted, Trever Cole, assisted by Billy Fountain.

December 23 Minden hosted Bobcaygeon.

Both teams played a good game and Minden kept trying but were unable to make a goal. The ending score was 4-0 for Bobcaygeon.

December 28 Minden was invited to a Hockey Tournament in Little Britain. They're first game was at 11 a.m. with Port Carling. This Port Carling team played well. It was a joy to watch them. They played clean and they knew which hockey player was doing. Minden played hard but was unable to beat them. The ending score was 7-3 for Port Carling.

Goals made by Minden were Trever Cole, unassisted, Gary Kernohan, assisted by Trever Cole, Billy Fountain, unassisted.

The next game we played was at 3:30 with Lakefield. Minden did get themselves together this time and both teams seemed to be equally matched as the puck battled from one end of the ice to the other. Ending the game with the score of 2-1 for Lakefield.

Goals made by Minden were Billy Fountain, assisted by Jason Horsley.

Minden had a great day in Little Britain and would like to say thanks for inviting us to their hockey tournament.

December 30 Minden hosted Oakwood. Both teams played good clean game. The Minden teammates certainly seemed to know what they were doing with every goal made being unassisted. Nice game Minden.

The game ended 6-1 for Minden.

Unassisted goals made by Minden were Billy Fountain, Trever Cole, Philip Neville, Gary Kernohan, and Paul Daniels with two.

Now that we're in the new year, Minden's Novice C team seems to be playing just as good or better than the past year.

Our first game was January 6 when we hosted Ops.

Both teams played a good game. The puck certainly got slapped around alot from one end of the ice to the other. Both teams trying a little harder than the other to see who would score the last goal to break the tie. Unfortunately, neither team was able to break the tie ending the game with a 2-2 score.

January 7 Minden travelled to Oakwood which proved to be a very good game. Both teams played hard and Minden made some nice passes. They got right in and dug for the puck. The whole team seemed to play well together, and as result of that, they won with a score of 4-1.

Goals made by Minden were Gary Kernohan, assisted by Paul Daniels, Jason Horsley, unassisted, Shane Walker, assisted by Jason Horsley, Gary Kernohan, unassisted.

Nice game Minden. Let's keep up the good work.

Residents learn about biblical women

Senior League

by Winnifred Barnum

It is already noticeable how much the days are lengthening.

Thursday, the Haliburton Legion Auxiliary brought our Thursday tea party. They served us a delicious lunch which everyone enjoyed. Linda played the piano and sang some very old songs. We thank the ladies of the Legion for the lovely lunch and for coming on such a nasty day and Linda too, for entertaining us.

In the evening we played bingo. Roger Yearwood and a new caller, Rick Downs, called the games. It was an enjoyable evening.

Friday was Happy Hour with Doris providing the music for which we thank her and the volunteers who helped Don and Ellen Holden and Mary Guillemin.

Saturday seemed pretty quiet but there was a large number of visitors to see several residents.

Sunday, Gladys Kirkpatrick had her sister Grace Sipes to see her and Eva Howe who came with Grace visited me.

Sunday Pearl Lyle became very ill. Hurry and get well Pearl.

The chapel service was conducted by Rev. John Burgess and Alice Jones played the organ. Thanks from the bottom of our hearts to Alice and Rev. Burgess.

Monday, we were back to the regular routine. Evelyn Coleman came for bible study. We are studying the women of the bible and so we were looking at Eve's life to start.

Later we had residents' council. There were many reisdents and we had our new administrator, Rheta Jones join with us at this council. We appreciate her interest greatly. Doris finished the book we have been reading, "Sarah."

Saturday, Mable Buttery had Ruth Kellett to visit her and Monday, she had her brother, Wilfred Ackerblade to see her.

Monday evening York and Ena Marion and Bonnie showed films for us in the auditorium. They were "Colour it Living," "St. Lawrence National Park" and "Green Feathered Sea." Eleven residents attended. We thank you York, Ena and Bonnie very much for showing us the films.

We thank Pat Campbell for the lovely decorations between the dining room and the lounge. We are still enjoying them. Thank you Pat.

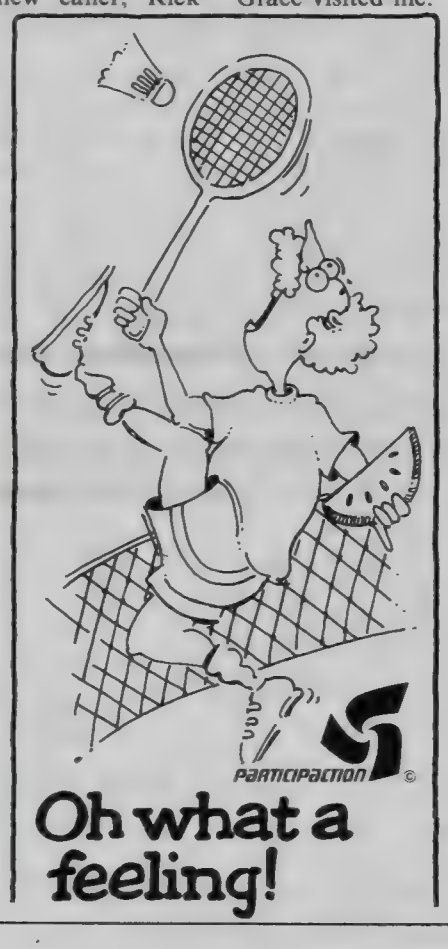
Tuesday morning chapel service was taken by Rev. B. Parker. He also had communion. We thank him for the service which we appreciate very much.

Alice Todd had her birthday January 9, 1990. We congratulate and wish her many more.

Tuesday afternoon we had games in the auditorium euchre and crokinole. The residents wish to thank the ladies who volunteered to help with the games.

Wednesday night Earl Cooper and Cathy Owens came and, as usual, we enjoyed a happy evening listening to them play their instruments and we sincerely thank them.

Sincere sympahty to the family and friends of Isabella Avery who passed away January 11, 1990.



Oh what a feeling!

League leaders are starting to falter

With the season winding down in the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League, the front runners are showing signs of vulnerability, sparking hope for some upsets in the playoffs.

Both the frontrunners came out on the short end of their games last Monday. Stamp Fuels lost a close one to The Times, while Home Hardware was bombarded by Hartwick

The opening game of the night saw Hartwick outpace their opponents throughout all three periods to accumulate a 9-2 win. Brian Shaw, who is now the top goal scorer in the league, added a hat-trick to Hartwick's tally. Jeff Howe scored twice while singles came from Kevin Hamilton, Billy Whittaker, Wade Stamp and Kevin Mills.

Paul Walker and Doug Schell scored Home's two goals.

Stamp Fuels accepted just their second loss of the season when they met up with The Times in the second game of the night. Two late goals gave The Times the 7-5 advantage in this game.

Eldon Bull and Dave Rodgers led the way for The Times with two goals each in this game. Brian Noseworthy, Ivan Ingram and Andy McKenzie each added one.

Craig Crowe scored twice for Stamp Fuels, while singles came from Greg Newell, Tom Haley and Exon Gravel.

There was no upset in the final game of the night as the Rockcliffe Tavern outpointed Westside 8-5.

John Ballantyne and Ted Pilcher each scored two for the Rockcliffe. Singles came from Dave Hartwick, Collin Newell, Andy Schollig and Joe Graham.

Westside goals were scored by Kim Hamilton, Corey Walker, Bart Hilhorst, Sid Mackeigan and Mike Keaney.

In spite of the losses, Stamp Fuels and Home are still at the top of the league standings. Stamp Fuels' record of nine wins and two losses keeps them at the front of the pack with just four games remaining in the season. Home is in second place with seven wins and four losses. Hartwick is in third place with six wins, four losses and a tie; The Times is a half a game back with six wins and five losses; The Rockcliffe has a record of four wins, six losses and a tie, and Westside is still looking for its first win.

Tonight's action starts at 7 p.m. when The Times meets Hartwick. At 8:30 p.m. the Rockcliffe will play Stamp Fuels, and at 10 p.m. Westside plays Home.

Minden Novices earn win, tie

by Mel Flood

On Saturday, January 6, the Minden OMHA novices hosted Beaverton and earned a 4-4 tie.

The previous match between these two teams saw Beaverton win 6-0. Our boys were up for this game as they felt it was pay back time.

Danny Jordan opened the scoring just eight seconds into the game, unassisted. Just forty seconds into the second period, Ryan Anderson scored assisted by Corey Casey. Danny Jordan scored his second goal of the game assisted by Philip Daniels, giving Minden a 3-0 lead and things were looking good.

Beaverton scored two quick goals before the second period ended, giving them some added life. The third period scoring was opened on a pretty passing play by Philip Daniels to Ryan Anderson, for his second goal of the game.

Beaverton would not quit and came back to score two goals to tie the game at 4-4.

On Sunday, January 7, we travelled to Cannington for our final game of the regular schedule. Cannington opened the scoring at 4:51 of the first period. With one second remaining in the first period, Danny Jordan scored to tie the game at one each, with an assist going to Wayne Kernohan. This was a power play goal.

Period two featured a short-handed goal by Ryan Anderson assisted by Danny Jordan. In the third period we added an even strength goal by Nickolas Kulas assisted by Ryan Anderson.

The final score of the game was 3-1 in favour of Minden.

The team's regular season was 10 wins, 6 losses and 4 ties. Good luck in the play-offs.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Drug research on the increase

Report From Ottawa

by Bill Scott, M.P.

Research and development investment in the pharmaceutical industry is one the rise, thanks, in part, to changes the Government has made to the Patent Act, says acting Minister of Consumer and Corporate Affairs, Harvie Andre.

Commenting on the recently released first Annual Report of the Patented Medicines Prices Review Board, Mr. Andrew Noted that, as a result of Patent Act amendments, there is now more work being done in labs, clinics, hospitals and universities across Canada.

In 1987, Bill C-22 was given Royal Assent. The bill was comprised of a wide array of significant amendments to the Patent Act, which had not been substantially amended since 1935. The changes contained in C-22 were intended to strengthen intellectual property laws, encourage the development of Canadian industry by aiding technology transfer, boost research and development, and increase consumer protection in the area of drug prices.

The process of amending the Patent Act was not without controversy; but throughout, the government insisted that research would increase and that the Patented Medicines Prices Review Board, created as a result of the amendments, would protect consumers from unfair price increases.

The Board's report bears out this prediction. According to Statistics Canada data, drug price increases dropped by 1.7 per cent below the change in the Consumer Price Index by August. In addition, 57 companies reported an investment of $164.5 million in research and development in 1988, which raises the R and D to sales ration to 6.1 per cent.

Vigorous research and development activity is central to the continued health of Canada's economy. As trade becomes ever more global in scope, and as we experience competition, we will be forced to rely increasingly on the ingenuity and creativity of our industrial sector.

As a result of changes to the Patent Act, the pharmaceutical industry is currently experiencing the king of change that will ensure its continued success and vitality in the next century.

As this is the last Report From Parliament before Christmas, I want to take this opportunity to extend to you my warmest wishes for a very Merry Christmas Season.

Gallery sale a big success

by Marion Hill

The Gallery Board would like to express our appreciation to the many artists of our area for their outstanding support during our Christmas Sale. Thanks to your talents, we had a great variety to offer our many visitors.

Your board of directors for the Gallery in 1990 will be Ron Murdoch, Virginia Sagal, John Sagal, Jean Stevens, Doreen Berry, Marion Hill and new member Victoria Cross. Our appreciation to outgoing members Mary Endicott, Edward Hancock and Aileen Blears.

The Village Building committee is undertaking renovations at the Gallery and Common Room early this year. However, there will be no interruption of service from the office by Alice Don.

Our first exhibition of the season will be March 5 at which time we will be presenting our permanent collecton. This will be your opportunity to view the many restored lapine paintings and newly donated pieces to our gallery painted by this fine artist.

We hope you will continue to use your Agnes Jamieson membership card in the new year a 'free' pass to enjoy exhibitions at the Art Gallery of Ontario. For you convenience, here is a list of a few of the exhibits in the new year:

Until March 11, 'A Life In Sculpture' features 130 bronzes and carving by Jacques Litchitxz

February 17 to April 15, 89 prints of English and French cathedrals and churches. Photographed from 1886 to 1912. This will be followed by selections from A.G.O., Inuit collection.

In closing, a picture hanging tip: we are so often asked how to position art on the wall. Interior decorators generally agree to hang at eye level. A common error is to hang too high causing disjointed appearance between your art by a table and chair, be sure and place it low enough to view while in a seated position.

Funding for houses

by Doreen Hawman

The Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation Emergency Repair Program (ERP), will provide funding to assist low-income homeowners when an emergency repair is needed to their dwelling.

Repairs are limited to those items urgently required to render the unit fit for human habitation, but not designed to restore houses to minimum property standards.

A maximum of up to $1,500 will be paid as a one-time non-repayable contribution. Canada Mortgage and Housing requires that the dwelling be in a rural area, the principal residence of the applicant and that the repair is needed to enable the occupant to maintain continued safe habitation of the home.

For further information call CMHC direct at 1-800-461-7698. Applications are available at your nearest Information Centre. In Haliburton, the centre located in the Drag River Municipal Building, Maple Ave., is open Monday to Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. or call 457-2733.

Thank You Minden

We can't thank all of you enough!

The individuals, churches and service clubs who gave of food items, toys and money ... those who knit mittens and bunnies ... the Girl Guides who counted and wrapped candy ... the food sorters and packers ... the Agnes Jamieson Gallery for being our 'depot' ... the drivers who delivered ... Mrs. Wales grade 6 class ... The Times for providing free promotion...

We consider our 1989 Christmas Box drive to have been a tremendous success. You as a community responded most generously. The privilege was ours to co-ordinate the program once again.

When our house burnt down, I felt numb..., but when I saw for myself how much people cared, the tears rolled. Our little boys had a Christmas! We'll miss what we lost because it was everything we owned, but I'll never forget how our wonderful people banded together in a time of need, I'll never forget how many good people there are. The most important thing of all is we still have each other, and each one of us has been made a better person in one way or another.
Thank you & God Bless,
Laurie Barrie & Tom Rivers

P.S. I believe in Santa Claus!

IN MEMORIAM

HEWITT, STERLING. In loving memory of an uncle taken away on January 19, 1974.

The love for you never dies,
Many nights they cry,
If only one year you could have stayed,
But now you rest and lay,
So suddenly you left,
Not a warning or a trace
Missed deeply is the smile so oftenly seen on your face.
For one year before my birth you were taken away,
My parents say it feels like only yesterday,
Many hidden tears are shed,
When others are asleep,
You were a friend to many when you lived,
And remain a friend in death.
If I had only one wish I would stop time the day you left,
Then I could see your smile in sight,
Other than in my mind.

So deeply missed by your niece Tina.
